THE SEVENTH ANNUAL BOSNIAN-HERZEGOVINIAN FILM FESTIVAL (BHFF™) TO TAKE PLACE MAY 14 AND 15 AT TRIBECA CINEMAS IN NEW YORK CITY
March 15th is the official call for entries deadline

NEW YORK, January, 2010: The seventh annual Bosnian-Herzegovinian Film Festival (BHFF™) announced a call for entries with the official deadline of March 15, 2010. The festival will take place May 14 and 15, 2010 at Tribeca Cinemas, one of New York City's highly regarded film institutions.

Since its founding in 2003, BHFF has gained a reputation as an important showcase of contemporary Bosnian-Herzegovinian cinematography. This unique cultural event organized by two New York area-based not-for-profit organizations, Voice of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Inc. and Academy of Bosnia and Herzegovina, provides a platform for the exposure of up-and-coming and internationally-renowned filmmakers, thus contributing to a greater understanding of this country, its diverse culture, complex history and challenges it faces.

Although Bosnia and Herzegovina, a country of the size of West Virginia, generates only several feature films per year, its filmmakers have gained worldwide recognition producing award-winning movies on very low budgets. Recent examples are Oscar-winning "No Man's Land," "Grbavica," winner of the Golden Bear award at Berlinale and the short film "In the Name of the Son", winner of approximately twenty international awards and counting.

The BHFF committee will consider feature films, short films, documentary films, documentary short films and animated films by Bosnian-Herzegovinian filmmakers as well as films that have Bosnia and Herzegovina as their theme. Films that are selected for the seventh annual BHFF may be eligible for the "The Golden Apple" audience awards.
